ENERGY HEALING

for pets and the animal world

Energy • Crystals • Bio resonance

Pets are part of our family, increase their Quality of Life with these kinds of therapies. We can support them looking therapies for their physical, mental, and behavioral wellbeing. They are not invasive on the contrary they can help to balance our best friends in all senses.

Energy therapies for pets help to treat the complete organism and they seek to activate the internal and external regulation systems. With these therapies we obtain a general Energy balance for them.

- These therapies help to reinforce and impulse any Veterinarian treatment.
- They balance the behavior reducing the stress or hyperactivity. These therapies also impulse the healing of any kind of chronic or acute disease. They regulate the nervous system and relieve pain.
- These therapies help them to improve quality of life.
- The animals are very receptive to these energy therapies due to their extremely sensitive nature.

It is very important to know that our pets tend to absorb much more and quickly any kind of low vibration energy. That's why it's very important to help them through the use of these kinds of therapies that keep the balance leave them free of low vibrations.

Energy Healing Therapy

This therapy helps to balance all the Chakras and remove bad and low energies absorbed by our animals that are not transmuted and can be transformed into a disease. This therapy consists in working on 5 different basic channels of healing. (Bastet's Complete Animal Healing System)

Bio Resonance Therapy

This therapy is intended to increase the power of regulation and self-healing of their bodies. It is conducted by vibrations and microcurrents which help them elevating and balancing their chakras to an optimal level. It also helps a lot to minimize any kind of pain that they are suffering at the moment.

Crystal Therapy

In this therapy we work supported with crystals like stones and quartz to achieve healing and vital harmony. This therapy can be done only in person. It helps to clean bad and low vibes and to balance their chakras favoring healing of any kind of suffering.

NOTE:

The Energy and Bio resonance therapies can be done onsite or by distance with the same healing effect.

These therapies can be used for any kind of animal specimen, such as, hamsters, rabbits, horses, turtles, birds, ferrets, parrots, etc.

Love and pamper your life partners even more, increasing their quality of life and health
